

Questions:

1. The purpose of having the fields “name” and “yearBuildt” be private is to ensure that they can only be accessed from inside the class. The methods for getting their values is then used by anyone outside the class that need those values.
2. The concept behind overriding the ToString() method is polymorphism.